

CCSNJ Proudly Announces a New Winning Partnership for Charity

Hydration is Healthy for Charity

Imagine being able to assist local charities by doing something that we do every day in our businesses. The activity? Grabbing a beverage of choice from a vending machine or cooler.

At Coke we understand dollars and brand awareness for charities is vital to their reaching their missions. That is why we have partnered with the CCSNJ to bring the Vend4Cause program to its members.

The program is pretty simple. Vending machines and/or coolers are placed in buildings and offices. The machines are supported by Coca-Cola directly. Companies both large and small can participate.

Signage is placed on the equipment supporting the charity of your choice while a portion of every dollar spent is given to that charity as well. Pricing is market consistent and the dollars really add up.

Join the likes of our members Brandywine Realty Trust and Shop Rite, as well as non-profits like Bancroft and Samaritan that are already participating in the program that has provided thousands upon thousands of dollars for charities nationwide.
